From the Independent, anding on the threshold of the New Year ident months of the Administration of ident Grant before the country and the d, it is a fitting time to consider the precondition of affairs, and to contrast it with the last, when he took the solemn oath that sted him with the power conferred on him he popular vote.

apacity any where in our cities or throughout he hand And the Gold Ring, which caused uch wild exertment as few months ago, felt he power of the President and his Financial iccretary at a finely moment; so that it has not since shown signs of life or action.

The Dott.—Month by month the people bave witnessed with mienes satisfaction the steady reduction of the medicinal debt. The monthly unlicities of the Treasury Department have been successive compaign documents in favorithe Administration; and when the year expires over one-twentieth of the bonded debt will have been paid. Gold.—Steadily, with the single exception thready alitided to, the premium on gold has belieffed; not by any extraordinary attents.

But being a stranger, I had no right to claim your confidence or usk for help, and so have been torted to struggle on patiently as I might from day to day, supported only by fervent fath in our sacred cause, and the consolusaness that prayers were being offered up by good people for aid. Now, my dear sir, you voice has reached me, and your hand as stretched forth as to a friend, and henceforth I shall look to you and lean upon you with a sure and abiding trust. Altrady my hent icels renewed strength and is inspired with fiesh hope There are once points involved in or developed by the present contest,on which I wish to commune with you before long; and indulging the hope that you will visit. And, as there or a Courtresausa who, will dony that he has all their friends dissatisfied. And, as there is no Congressian who will deny that he has sometimes made mistakes in selections in his sown district, where he knows personally so many of his constituents, how could any President be infalliable when he must depend for knowledge at to a very large proportion of apilicants on the recommendations of others? Reconstruction.—By the prompt and judicious action of the President, under the large authority given to him last April, in the closing hours of the first session of the Forty-First Congress, the work of reconstruction draws rapidly to its close, and before the resurrection of surince dadless our hearts we may hope to

And, before its formal adoption, the President has illustrated his belief in its justice by appointing to office, of both the higher and lower degree, many whose area and color, irrespective of their intellectual qualifications, that previously placed them under the ban of official ostracism. The following terso and emphatic remarks of the President to Attorney General Hour, and quoted by the latter at the recent Now England dinner in New York, is worthy to be printed in letters of gold:

rately argued heretofore, shows how faithfully the Administration is vindicating "the rights, dismitty and honor" of the United States.

Chan.—The President's sympathics with "all people straggling for liberty and solf-government" are frankly stated in his message. But, while thus openly expressing them, he as frankly declares that, "me matter how unplease ant the task," he has "affectived to execute our neutrality laws in good faith. On the main subject he thus speaks:

"The people and government of the United States entertain the same warm feetings and sympathics for the people of Cuba in their pending struggle that they manifested throughout the previous struggle between Spain and the former colonies in behalf of the latter; but the context at no time assumed the conditions which amount to a war in the sense of international law, or which would show the existence of a de facto political organization of the insurgents sufficient to justify a recognition of bellige ency."

And he adds: "Our course should always. belligerency."

And he adds: "Our course should always belligenency."

And he adds: "Our course should always be in conformity with strict justice and law, and the conformity has been conformed by the leves, as his whole message proves, in the gloden rule for nations as well as individuals. Whatever our sympathics may be, he holds that we should act toward others exactly as we would have held others act toward us during our recent struggle for national existence; or as we would have held others act toward us during our recent struggle for national existence; or as we would have them at hereafter if unhappily another dark cloud of civil war should ever and the control of civil war should ever not became the control of the saint. Moreover it is within the reach of every farmed who lives within reach of a supply of the raw material. The idea that it is necessary to have up alphants and of the Washington Government should delay recognizing us until Congress shall have met." This brief and dispassionate retrospect might be extended; but enough has been written to prove that the administration fully deserves the popular confidence it has won.

MR ADAMS' READINGS -A select in lapprecitive authence assembled at Counthian Hall last evening to listen to Mr. Rufus Adoms' Readings. The first piece was Trow-bridge's "Two Vigate ads," which was ren-dered with two drimatios (feet, and a pathowhich evinced the most perfect approxiation of the poot's line conceptions. In the trial scene from the "Merchant of Venice," the clocution was rather imperfect, and the transi-tions of character insufficiently marked for any audience not familiar with the text. The closel scene from Hamlet was a more creditable performance, and some of the finer persoger were rendered with thrilling effect. "Parrhasins' was equally good. The humorous re-citations, which afforded scope for some facial coemicities, were a marked success. The at-tention of the audience was well arctained throughout. From the Gosbith, Saturday.

Services were held according to announcement in the new Presbyterian House of Worship at 11 welcok this morning. The order o exercises were as follows:

Reading Scripture by the Rev. B. H. Bras

ted.

Prayer by the Rev. W. N. Stubbs.

Discourse on the importance of houses of worship, and of their necessity to the material, social and spiritual wellbeing of a community, by the Rev. J. J. Smythe.

Remarks, on the importance of paying for houses of worship before dedicating them to God by the Day Cover Britan D. Dirky D. D. of Rel.

God, by the Rev. Cytus Dixon, D. D., of Puttimore.

Receiving contributions by S. Q. Brown.
The whole exercises were interspersed with excellent singing by the choir.

On account of the storm several unticipated clergymen did not arrive, but those present seemed fully equal to the emergency. Notwithstanding the storm, a large congregation of the most respected and intelligent people in Pleasantville and vicinity were in attendance. Dr. Dixon, who is a veteran soldier, and for many years alid pioneer work in Venango Co., seems to have "renewed his strength like the cagles." Indeed, he seems as vigorous and rao, as when there rested on his brow the dew of his youth.

There was a debt of $3,500 still resting on the house. This the ductor proposed should be paid before they professed to dedicate it to the

There was a debt of $3,500 still resting on the house. This the ductor proposed should be paid before they professed to dedicate it to the Lord, since they had no right to give away, and, in fact, could not right to give away, what did not belong to them. It was only a solomn mockery to profess to dedicate to Almight; God what the shtriff yet might clam. The doctor's logic was left to be incontrovertable, and he was not slow to devive a mothod for realizing so desirable an object. As five times reven a: thirty-five, he proposed that seven men assume the $3,500 and allow the dedication to be made at once. Calling for some one to canvass the audience, Mr. S. Q. Blown volunteered, and the work commegacet. Five of the seven were obtained, wherlar collection was taken amounting to $163, leaving only $817, which it is believed will be made up in the evening, if not before, when the dedication will doubtless be made. which it is believed will be made up vening, if not before, when the dedication defendants.

The gist of the evidence for the United States was that the defendants had quarroled and in endeavoring to effect a softlement, by arbitration, had made a statement respecting 600 barrels of whisky, made at Pittsburg before April, 1806, and which had been "run through" without complying with the law in such cases made and provided. The information respecting the whisky came up incidentally in making an uffl-

Mr. C. W. Watson, of Hayfield, was appointed Merolyntile Appraiser. This is an excellent selection. Mr. Watson is well known as one of the most active and influential Republicans in the county.—Republican.

We learn that our townswoman, Mrs. K. B. Roberts, is about to enter the lecture, or rather reading field, opening her entertainment at Titusville, January 24th and 25th. Mrs. R. has given several recitations and readings here and always with complete success. She is possessed of a very retentive memory, and a pleasing and effective delivery, and we predict for her a high position in the profession she has chosen. She needs only to be heard to be appreciated.—Tidionte Journal. THE Regular Monthly Meeting of the Board
